

RAILROAD REGULATION BILL WAS PASSED BY HOUSE TODAY--VICTORY WAS WON BY VOTE OF 200 TO 126

TAFT SATISFIED WITH PRESENT FORM

Says No Vital or Essential Have Been Cut Out by Amendments

REMEDIAL POINTS ARE ALL RETAINED IN BILL

Efforts to Further Alter Measure Were Quickly Defeated

WASHINGTON, May 10.—The house this afternoon adopted the railroad regulation bill as reported by the committee of the whole. The final vote was 200 to 126.

When the bill came up Mann of Illinois offered an amendment re-establishing the clause permitting mergers under certain conditions. The amendment was defeated by 169 to 160.

Representative Adamson moved to recommit the bill with instructions to eliminate the Commerce Court clause. The motion was lost.

The bill as it passed the house omits the rate agreement and the provisional merger clauses. Clauses providing for the assessment of the physical property of the roads and providing charges according to the length of haul, were added.

TAFT WILL BE SATISFIED WITH EMASCULATED BILL
WASHINGTON, May 10.—The administration railroad bill was reported from the House as a committee of the whole today for final vote. This marks the beginning of the end of the fight over the measure in the House. The House leaders say very few changes will be made, and the bill is likely to be passed.

The measure is fearfully mutilated and plastered with amendments as a result of the bitter fight. The President, however, is satisfied. The only matter unsettled is the long and short haul clause. This probably will be productive of a final skirmish.

Speaking of the emasculated measure, President Taft said:
"I am not so familiar with the condition of the bill in the House as I was in the Senate. I think developments will show that the bill contains all the remedial features of the original bill, and that the things omitted were neither substantial nor vital."

BIG ENTERPRISE FOR NEWPORT BEACH

New Hotel, Bath House, Plunge and Pavilion and All Other Improvements and Attractions for a First-class Resort

It looks like Newport Beach is to have a good hotel, bathhouse, plunge and pavilion.

The Newport Beach Bath House Co. has been organized and capitalized at $50,000 and an option has been secured on the Newport Hotel and adjoining lots, 175 feet ocean frontage by 125 feet deep, for $17,500. This option is given by the Newport Hotel Co., composed of Los Angeles men.

Following is the stock subscription agreement:
"I, the undersigned, hereby subscribe for ..... shares of stock in the Newport Beach Bath House Company.

"Said Newport Beach Bath House Company having been incorporated for $50,000 to be evidenced by 500 shares of stock of a par value of $100 per share.

"It being understood and agreed that 250 shares of stock are to be offered for sale at the present time and 250 shares to be retained as unissued stock.

"It being further understood and agreed that there is to be no promotion stock nor additional compensation allowed for any work already done in the matter of organization and acquirement and that every individual subscribing for stock pays exactly the same amount per share for his stock as does any other individual or group of individuals.

"With the above understanding I hereby agree to pay the sum of $100 per share for ..... shares of stock in the Newport Beach Bath House Company, paying for the same in the following manner, viz: 25 per cent payable at the time of signing this instrument and the balance to be paid in percentage payments as called for by the Board of Directors of the Newport Beach Bath House Company. Proper receipts to be given for each payment made and a stock certificate issued upon final payment."

Newport Beach people have already subscribed $5200 of the stock and agree to increase this amount to $7500 and perhaps more, and officers of the Newport Beach Bath House Co. (Lew Wallace and M. L. Orcutt) are in Santa Ana today securing subscriptions from Newport Beach property owners who live here, and from others.

It is proposed to remodel and furnish the hotel, build a bathhouse and pavilion, and make other improvements and provide amusements and entertainment such as are required for the success of a first-class seaside resort.

The promoters of this enterprise feel that Newport Beach has many advantages and attractions as a seaside resort not possessed by other seaside places, such as fine surf and still water bathing, fishing, comparatively low rents and property values, quietude, etc., and that all that is needed is attractions and accommodations such as those proposed to be provided by the new company.

KING'S DEATH MADE TRUCE

But Parliament Now Ready to Break It—Alexandria May Collapse

LONDON, May 10.—Fearing that the Dowager Queen Alexandria will suffer a collapse following King Edward's funeral, Dr. Sir Francis Laking is trying to persuade her to take a long vacation after the obsequies. Dr. Laking examined both Queens Alexandria and Mary, and said their health was excellent except for the strain caused by the King's death.

Parliamentary Truce Weakens
LONDON, May 10.—There are signs of a collapse of the truce between the Liberals and Conservatives that was declared upon King Edward's death to permit King George's smooth sailing for the opening of his reign. A crisis is expected soon, and the Liberals are accusing the Conservatives of using the interval to strengthen their position. The cabinet held an informal meeting today, and Premier Asquith, for the first time, conferred with King George.

The King has refused to issue an order for universal mourning, declaring that such an order would compel poor persons to purchase black, which many cannot afford.

Decree is Set Aside
On the request of the plaintiff, Judge Wets this morning ordered set aside the interlocutory decree of divorce entered in the action of Nellie G. Blisshop against Fern Bishop. The suit was dismissed.

ROYAL GUARD WAS TOO LATE

Failed to Meet Roosevelt—Kaiser Angry—Gave Hearty Welcome to American

BERLIN, May 10.—Colonel Roosevelt reached the railway station half an hour ahead of the Kaiser's imperial guard. When the escort of honor reached the station Colonel Roosevelt and party had already taken cabs to the American embassy. The Kaiser was angry at Baron Von Schoen, minister of foreign affairs, because of the miscarriage of the reception plans. The result was a rather subdued reception by the crowd, who knew the escort should be there.

Because of King Edward's death, the Kaiser and Roosevelt will meet informally a few times, but no formal entertainment will be planned. They met today for the first time. The Kaiser's reception was cordial, and the Roosevelts were permitted to see the Hohenzollern family albums, which are only exhibited on rare occasions.

Friday, Saturday and Sunday will be aviation days, and several aeroblists of national reputation will appear.

SIX MONTHS SUSPENDED

Anaheim Bicycle Dealer Given
Severe Jolt by Judge
West

R. E. Henrick Found Guilty of Contributing to Boy's Delinquency

Robert E. Henrick of Anaheim, was today found guilty of contributing to the delinquency of a minor, and was given a sentence of six months in the county jail. The sentence was suspended during good behavior.

Henrick has been running a bicycle shop at Anaheim. He was brought into court in the investigation into the case of Archie Barnes, a boy of 16 accused of stealing and selling a bicycle belonging to W. A. Stafford. The boy traded the bicycle to Henrick for an old revolver, worth about 1.50, and $2 in money.

The investigation soon turned from the boy to Henrick, and of all the side-stepping that a man ever did in a juvenile court, Henrick did it under the fire of Judge West and Deputy District Attorney Finley. They had him in a corner half a dozen times, and in the end the judge told him he would sooner take the boy's word than Henrick's.

Henrick said the revolver belonged to a man named Jacoby, who had left it with him to sell. After he had traded the weapon to young Barnes, Henrick said he settled with Jacoby. After Henrick made this statement, Judge West reached over among some papers and said:

"I have here a signed statement by Jacoby showing that you made that trade some weeks before you traded the revolver to this boy."

Henrick admitted that he had a notion that possibly the bicycle was stolen when he bought it, so he got a bill of sale from the boy.

"It looks bad," said the judge, "when you take a bicycle almost new and give a boy in return a worthless gun and $2. You say it was $3, but the boy says $2, and I would sooner take his word."

Deputy Finley questioned Henrick about a bicycle affair some weeks back. Henrick said he received a bicycle from his brother in Los Angeles, among other bicycles. He admitted repainting the frame, and changing the rims, handle-bars, seat and pedals to other wheels. He also admitted giving the man who recognized the frame as his a new wheel and a sum of money in settlement.

C. F. Hooker was called as a witness. It was his bicycle that Henrick had manipulated. Henrick told Hooker that he had bought the frame from a Mexican. Hooker also recognized his handle-bars. Well, Henrick bought that from someone else. Henrick settled with Hooker by giving him a new $55 wheel and $15 in cash. James Livesey testified that Hooker's bicycle did not need re-enameling.

It was a badly scared Henrick that Judge West called back to the stand. "I find you guilty under the law of contributing to the delinquency of this boy, and I sentence you to serve six months in the county jail. I shall hold that sentence over your head just so long as you stay in this county, and if I ever hear of you mingling in this kind of business again, I shall send for you."

The judge told him that this thing of taking bicycles, changing the parts and repainting frames had caused much annoyance.

"You are the first one up, and you are lucky that you are," said the judge. "The next one will go to jail."

Archie Barnes was given probation.

JUDGE REFUSES TO DISMISS
Copper King Heinze Must Go to Trial on Thirty Counts Returned in 1908

NEW YORK, May 10.—Judge Hough refused to dismiss thirty counts in the indictments returned in 1908 against Augustus Heinze, the copper king. Heinze's trial will proceed on those counts.

City of Allston is Partly Burned

Inhabitants Fighting to Prevent Explosion of Powder
Works

HOUGHTON, Mich., May 10.—A portion of the city of Allston has been destroyed by the forest fire that is sweeping the Dollar Bay region and endangering life and property.

The works of the Dupont Powder Company on Dollar Bay are threatened. Scores of residents are fighting desperately to keep the flames from the plant to prevent an explosion which would destroy their homes. Immense damage has already been done.

Earlier Report
HOUGHTON, MICH., May 10.—Forest fires threaten to destroy the village of Allston, thirty miles from Houghton at the extremity of the Michigan peninsula.

Two houses have already burned and the fire is reported as spreading rapidly. The town is completely surrounded by forest. The residents are fighting desperately to save their homes.

S. H. FINLEY APPOINTED ASSISTANT ENGINEER OF HIGHWAY COMMISSION

Engineer S. H. Finley of Santa Ana has been appointed assistant engineer of the Highway Commission of Orange county. His appointment by Chief Engineer D. S. Halladay of Los Angeles was today approved by the board of supervisors.

Engineer Finley's duties are to make surveys of the roads tentatively selected by the Highway Commission. The estimates of the cost of doing the work on a per diem basis given the chief engineer and commission was this morning submitted to the Board of Supervisors. The estimate is: Personal services of assistant engineer, $10; transit man, $4; two chainmen, $4.50; transportation, $2; levelman, $3.50; rodman, $2.50; assistant rodman, $1.50; board, at $1 per day per man when away from Santa Ana, $7; extra transportation and incidentals.

This brings the cost of making the survey at $27 to $34 per day. The supervisors ordered that the northeast room of the basement be fitted up for the use of the Highway Commission.

Postponed a Week
Clyde Ewing presented a petition of thirty names asking that he be appointed a deputy game warden for Orange county, without salary, his compensation to be a portion of fines collected as the result of his prosecutions. The supervisors asked the district attorney's office to give an opinion upon the status of the mat-

Greek Letter is Carved on Dead
Woman's Head

DENVER, May 10.—The Greek letter, "Delta," carved on the forehead of Mrs. Catherine Wilson, a wealthy woman, whose dead body was found Sunday, wedged in a packing case in the basement of her home, is causing the police much speculation. The symbol is carefully cut in the flesh, supposedly by the murderer. The only person known to have visited the house the previous day was a Japanese house cleaner, who assisted the woman to prepare her home for the return of her husband from a visit. The Japanese cannot be found.

WALNUT GROWERS TO MEET MAY 21ST

Matter to be Considered is Proposed Changes in the State Organization

The members of the Santa Ana Valley Walnut Growers Association are to meet at the city hall at 2 o'clock Saturday, May 21. The object of the meeting is to consider the changes proposed in the state organization. The organization has concluded that some changes are necessary to take the association beyond question out of the class covered by the Cartwright anti-trust law. Other associations will be called upon to take similar action upon the matter.

FOUR-YEAR-OLD BOY BADLY HURT

Lad Starting Across Street Was Struck by the Machine

SEARCH IS MADE FOR OFFENDER

Injured Boy is Son of A. H.
Williams of 834 Ross
Street

Little 4-year-old George Williams, son of A. H. Williams, is seriously hurt because an automobilist ran his machine last night without lights. With the child lying unconscious in the street, the automobilist threw his machine into high speed and hastened away from the place.

The boy barely escaped death and mangled. A long cut on the head, concussion of the brain, injuries across the abdomen, cuts and bruises on his feet and minor bruises all over his body were the results suffered by the child. He was knocked down. A wheel passed over the abdomen just above the hips. The feet, by marks of graphite, were caught in the chain and severely lacerated.

The accident occurred last night at about 7:30 o'clock in front of the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Williams at 834 Ross street. Several boys were playing across the street. An automobile passed by bearing lights, as the law provides. Little George, desiring to cross to where the other boys were, waited until the automobile had gone by, and then started across. A second automobile came along a short distance behind the automobile with lights. This second machine had no lights, neither in front nor behind. No warning was given the boy. He was knocked down.

The automobilist seemed to slow up for an instant, but for an instant only, and then sped on.

The boy was unconscious when he was picked up, and for some time afterward.

There is considerable indignation in the neighborhood over the action of the automobilist. There seems to be little chance of discovering the man's identity. The boys who saw the accident can give no detailed description of the machine. Still, from what he has learned, the boy's father has hopes of locating the man.

ORDINANCE DIVIDING CITY IN TWELVE SEWER DISTRICTS PASSED FOR FIRST READING

BEGIN AGAIN ON WEST FOURTH PAVING

The Board Will Drop Off Two Blocks West of Baker Street

CORRECT LINES ON NORTH BROADWAY

North Main Street Residents
Ask for Special Officer
Without Pay

Last night the city trustees took the first step in the procedure that will end in submitting to the people of this city plans for sewerage of the entire city, an outfall to be built to the bay. This first step consisted in passing for first reading the ordinance laying the city out in twelve sewer districts. When the ordinance is finally adopted the city may proceed with its bond election calls.

It is proposed to bond the inside district, No. 1, the portion of the city now sewerage, to build the outfall sewer, each of the other eleven districts to be bonded for sewerage, each district to pay for its own sewerage.

The ordinance read last night sets forth in detail the boundaries of each of the twelve districts. A map of the city showing the different districts may be seen at the city hall.

WANT AN OFFICER ON NORTH MAIN

O. P. Remsburg, representing a number of property owners on North Main street, requested that the board appoint W. D. Lantz a special officer without pay.

"Tramps are pretty bad out our way at times," said he. "They steal milk and beg, and a store out there has been robbed. Then there is a good deal of automobile speeding. We are so far out that we feel we ought to have an officer near. Mr. Lantz has said he would serve without pay, we having requested him to act as a special officer provided the city will make an appointment."

Trustee McNaught, committee on police, said he would like to talk the matter over with the marshal, and so no action will be taken on Mr. Remsburg's request until the next meeting of the board, May 16.

WANT PERMITS TO BE GOTTEN EASILY

An ordinance was read proposing to regulate sidewalk, curb and street work by private contract. It regulates inspection. It provided that all permits must be issued for that work by the city trustees.

Trustees Thompson and McNaught said that contractors said the law would work a hardship if permits could not be secured any day of the week. Engineer Bates said often the property owner would suffer because a contractor might go on with a string on a street, when if he had to wait for a permit the property owner would have to pay for moving back.

It was suggested that the street superintendent issue the permits. The clerk said he did not want the job. A motion to refer the ordinance back to the city attorney and engineer with a request that they devise some means of issuing permits that will cause no delay in work.

As to the provisions of the ordinance requiring contractors to give notice to the street department when work is commenced so that the work may be inspected and brought to the city's specifications.

"There is a lot of work being done not up to specifications," said Trustee Thompson.

MOVE STREET EAST COUPLE OF FEET

Engineer Bates said that Broadway ought not to be posted for paving between Fifth and Hickey until the street between Fifth and Sixth is straightened. The street is between two and three feet too far west. A similar condition was remedied between Fourth and Fifth. The west curb is two or three feet off the roadway, and the east curb is out in the street. Contracts have been let for fixing the west side, but the east side has done nothing.

McNaught suggested that the city offer to haul the gravel and haul away the cement blocks that have to be torn out. This suggestion prevailed. Bates said the mistake in placing the curbs was made years ago.

GO AWAY BACK TO BEGINNING AGAIN

McFadden—"How does the paving on West Fourth stand?"

Heathman—"I think we will straighten out the Bristol street matter. I think the property owner will sign a deed to a strip two feet by thirty."

Bates—"That deed will settle the matter so far as Bristol is concerned. We can get in our culvert."

McFadden—"But the trouble is in regard to the sewer. The street to be paved as it stands now is from Parton to Hesperion. But the sewer only runs to Baker. Property owners west of Baker will fight the paving unless the sewer is laid first, and those two blocks lie in another sewer district."

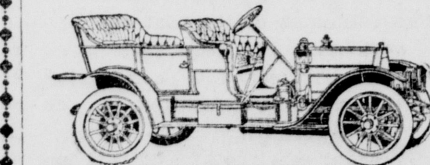

Bates—"All times considered we would do well to drop back to Baker street and not attempt to pave the two blocks between Baker and Hesperion."

"How many times have we gone through procedure for paving West Fourth?" asked McFadden. Heathman thought it four times. Someone else said five times.

On Thompson's motion the city attorney was instructed to draw up the proper resolutions for paving West Fourth from Parton to Baker with rock and oil macadam.

NO CORNERS BUT IS TAXED FOR THEM

E. Arnold stated to the board that he had been assessed on two lots on First street just the same as though the lots were corner lots. They are corner lots on the map, but the street, Booth, has never been put through. Would the city order the street put through from First to Pine?

The matter was talked over, and was referred to the city attorney to make a report.

Rev. J. T. French opened his week's sermons at the revival meeting of last night at the M. E. Church, South, where meetings have been in progress for a week past. Dr. French made an eloquent and touching appeal on the theme "The Foundation of God Standeth Sure."

A large congregation greeted the initial appearance of Dr. French, who is a strong and persuasive speaker. The people of Santa Ana are cordially invited to hear him and join in the meetings. The sermon of last night was a fitting one to follow the service of Sunday at this and other churches where Mother's Day was observed. At this church the pastor, Rev. Douglas, spoke on the claims of Motherhood and at the end he asked the young men who endorsed the sermon and who would endeavor to live up to the Mother's ideal of Christian manhood to step forward. A most gratifying number responded to the invitation.

A. O. WHALEY GONE TO TULARE AND PURCHASED A BIG RANCH

Mr. A. O. Whaley has gone to Tulare and purchased of the Pacific Land Company, through its manager, W. A. Iden, a fine tract of land known as the Chicago ranch. This is said to be the best ranch in the state and has an annual income of $12,000 per year. The ranch is planted to fruit, vines, alfalfa and grain. It is well watered with both gravity and pumping facilities. The ranch is located west of Tulare, and is in what is known as the famous Tulare Oak Belt. Many people from this place will follow Mr. Whaley to his new home. He is one of the prominent citizens of Santa Ana, and has an influence that will cause many to follow his steps to Tulare and purchase lands in that the most productive section of the state. Santa Ana is doing much toward populating the Tulare section and many of her prominent citizens are location there. The Pacific Land Company has made several large sales recently from this and surrounding section of country. They are the largest land dealers in the San Joaquin Valley and do an immense land business. The manager, W. A. Iden, is a chemist and is thoroughly conversant with soils and has great success in selecting lands for the many customers of theirs.

Mr. Whaley will take possession of his new found possessions Tuesday morning, May 10, 1910.

The deal was consummated through the assistance of Eugene Severance, whose office is located at 419 North Main street, Santa Ana, and is headquarters for Tulare lands.

What Do They Cure?

The above question is often asked concerning Dr. Pierce's two leading medicines, "Golden Medical Discovery" and "Favorite Prescription." The answer is that "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most potent alternative or blood-purifier, and tonic or invigorator and acts especially favorably in a curative way upon all the mucous lining surfaces, as of the nasal passages, throat, bronchial tubes, stomach, bowels and bladder—curing a large per cent. of catarrhal cases whether the disease affects the nasal passages, the throat, larynx, bronchia, stomach (as catarrhal dyspepsia), bowels (as mucous colitis), bladder, uterus or other pelvic organs. Even in the chronic or neglected stages of these affections it is often successful in effecting cures.

The "Favorite Prescription" is advised for the cure of one class of diseases—those resulting from weakness, debility and irregularities incident to women only. It is a powerful yet gently acting invigorating tonic and nerve. For weak worn-out, over-worked women—no matter what has caused the break-down, "Favorite Prescription" will be found most effective in building up the strength, regulating the womanly functions, subduing pain and bringing about a healthy, vigorous condition of the whole system.

A book of particulars wraps each bottle giving the formulae of both medicines and quoting what scores of eminent medical authors, whose works are consulted by physicians of all the schools of practice as guides in prescribing, say of each ingredient entering into these medicines. The words of praise bestowed on the several ingredients entering into Dr. Pierce's medicines by such writers should have more weight than any amount of non-professional testimonials, because such men are writing for the guidance of their medical brethren and know whereof they speak.

Both medicines are non-alcoholic, non-secret, and contain no harmful habit-forming drugs, being composed of glyceric extracts of the roots of native American medicinal forest plants. They are both sold by dealers in medicine. You can't afford to accept as a substitute for one of these medicines of known composition, any secret nostrum.
Dr. Pierce's Pills, small, sugar-coated, easy to take as candy, regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.

NO DISPOSITION TO TRAMPLE ON RIGHTS OF STOCKHOLDERS SAYS S. ARMOR IN HIS REPLY

Editor Register:—Please allow me to reply briefly to S. J. Jackman's article in last night's Register. The facts recited by him are correct, so far as my knowledge goes; but the conclusion drawn by him, that there was a disposition manifested to "trample on the rights of the stockholders," is not supported by those facts. Perhaps an explanation of my own part in the matter will disprove his conclusion as well as any other argument would.

As he says, the roll call was responded to by over 7000 shares. On his motion, other stock was added by different individuals until the roll had reached 8,658.37 shares. Noting that no more stock was being reported, I asked how many shares had been reported, thus far and was told 8,658.37. I then addressed the chair substantially as follows: "Mr. President, since no business can be transacted at this meeting except what is embraced in the call, all of which requires a two-thirds vote, and since the stock reported is several thousand shares short of that amount, I move that this meeting adjourn to the second Saturday in July at 9 o'clock a.m." The motion was seconded and carried by a viva voce vote of practically all who were in the room—at least there was not a dissenting vote. I then went to the office of the Orange Post, and, a few minutes later, returned on my way to the ball game at the high school grounds. As I was passing through the crowd Jacob Feldner of West Orange, charged me with putting up a job on the stockholders, claiming that he and others were denied the opportunity to report their proxies. I told him I knew nothing about any refusal to list proxies, but had made the motion to adjourn when it appeared there were not sufficient votes present to transact the business for which the meeting was called. He went on to say the officers were trying to force the stockholders to vote an increase of capitalization, and he would fight it to the bitter end. I made no reply, but turned and went to the ball game, where every man played his part in a manly way and there was no kicking worth mentioning.

As to shutting off the listing of proxies, I myself heard no such order given, and now know nothing to that effect, except what Feldner and Jackman say about it. If such a ruling was made by the chair, it was an oversight on his part and cannot fairly be charged to a desire to "trample on the rights of the stockholders." Ordinarily a bare quorum is sufficient to transact business, and the chair probably forgot for the moment that none of the business specified in the call could be transacted without two-thirds of the stock being present. I didn't want to lose all the work that had been done towards getting at least two-thirds of the stock present, so I moved to adjourn to a future date to prolong the life of the meeting and give opportunity to collect more proxies. I fail to see anything wrong in that.

Respectfully,
S. ARMOR.

USE TIZ—SMALLER FEET

Sore Feet, Tender Feet and Swollen Feet Cured Every Time. TIZ Makes Sore Feet Well No Matter What Ails Them

Everyone who is troubled with sore, sweaty or tender feet—swollen feet—smelly feet, corns, callouses or bunions can quickly make their feet well now. Here is instant relief and a lasting permanent remedy—it's called TIZ. TIZ makes sore feet well and swollen feet are quickly reduced to their natural size. Thousands of ladies have been able to wear a full size smaller with perfect comfort.

It's the only foot remedy ever made which acts on the principle of drawing out all the poisonous exudations which cause sore feet. Powders and other remedies merely clog up the pores. TIZ cleanses them out and keeps them clean. It works right off. You will feel better the very first time it's used. Use it a week and you can forget you ever had sore feet. There is nothing on earth that can compare with it. TIZ is for sale at all druggists 25 cents per box or direct of you wish from Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill.

A DASTARDLY DEED

Every effort should be used to locate and punish the man who last night ran down the boy on Ross street, an account of which appears in the news columns of this paper.

Law-abiding automobilists, in particular, should be concerned in the case, for the actions of such culprits as this man cause prejudice unjustly against all automobile users.

In this case, the automobilist was culpable for two reasons:

First, he was running his machine after dark without lights.

Second, after running down his victim, he went on, hoping to escape the consequences of his lawlessness and culpability.

A similar occurrence took place on North Main street a few weeks ago. In that instance the automobile carried lights, but it was going at a reckless rate of speed. A man was knocked off his bicycle, and left unconscious on the pavement, while the automobilist increased his speed, well knowing he had committed a criminal act.

For such as these, what just punishment is there?

The remedy, for those seeking to avoid such accidents, lies in the enforcement of the motor vehicle speed and light laws all the time.

EASY TO THROW DOUBTS

It is announced that the president of Harvard university doubts the historic verity of Plymouth Rock. It is easy to throw doubts on anything, and one of the cheapest and easiest ways of gaining notoriety. In order to prove this, a genius once published a book on "Historical Doubts Concerning Napoleon Bonaparte" and he proved conclusively that no such person ever existed.

It is probable that President Lowell can do the same regarding Plymouth Rock and the Washington Elm, and smart people will look as wise as owls, smile knowingly and shake their ponderous heads at these landmarks of our forefathers.

All the same, just common folks, who, by the way, are largely in the majority, will go right on according verity and sacredness to these relics that have been handed down to us by our ancestors.

KEEP TO THE LAW

For ten days, we are told, the town of Mount Vernon, Illinois, has been in the hands of a lawless mob, which fact has been kept from the outside world on the ground that it would "hurt the town." Of course it would hurt the town to let it be known that a mob could terrorize it for one day, let alone ten. This town that can't control the lawless element is "hurt" already and ought to be.

Illinois towns have been notorious for such conditions lately, and the whole state has been "hurt" and civilization has been "hurt," for when the law fails we are on the highway to barbarism. Degeneration is bound to take place in any town where the law is systematically ignored and much more rapidly where the law is defied.

The law may be wrong, but as such it is the formal expression of the will of the people. If the people do not want the law let them repeal it; and this they will hasten to do, as per the famous saying of Grant, if it is enforced.

ROOSEVELT'S GREATNESS

It is safe to say that in the 6000 years of the world's history, no man has reached such heights of fame as has ex-President Roosevelt. In the first place, the world is bigger than ever before and the human family is brought closer together than at any other time in the past. Transportation and the quick interchange of intelligence, together with the general lifting of life out of the ruts of ages have created new conditions and given birth to a new feeling which renders it possible for one man to achieve a prominence that in former times was an impossibility.

It is under such conditions that Theodore Roosevelt has become the first real cosmopolitan upon whom the world looks as a great personal force.

It is a dangerous altitude to which he has attained. In this exalted position it is possible for his pulse to remain normal and his head clear and free from any dizzy sensations? If so he will have furnished proof of greater greatness than any man has as yet been able to supply.

Many an one has fought his way up to high positions who was unable to maintain himself there. It requires greater strength of character to demonstrate one's fitness for a position after the position has been attained than to reach it in the first instance. Success turns the heads of any but the really great, and no man has before succeeded as Roosevelt. Not only has he acquired greatness, but greatness is being thrust upon him. All ranks of life from the peasant to the king vie in adulation to our fellow citizen.

What impression will this clamor of glory have upon Roosevelt? Will he give it its true interpretation, or will he, like Alexander of old, imagine that it is due to the fact that after all he is of a little finer clay than others? And will the scope of his ambition become enlarged, or will he content himself with fighting the battles of the people as of old? In other words, when he arrives again at home, will it be as the "same old Roosevelt," so to speak, or will he have acquired a somewhat exaggerated opinion of himself?

If in spirit and in feeling Roosevelt is the same as when he went out, he will indeed be a marvel, and there will be a great future before him. His usefulness to the American people and indeed to the world at large will have just begun. Under such conditions, whatever he says will travel to the confines of the earth, and will have a hearing that the words of any mere man have never before received. His will be a world-wide audience, and in his own country he will have a loyal following that will constantly increase in numbers.

Roosevelt will find here the same old political enemies that he combated in the past. There will be the same covert antagonism to the "Roosevelt policies," and he will find this antagonism well entrenched and ready to give him battle if need be. If, however, he could in the meantime be shorn of at least a part of his strength before he reaches the old battle ground, there would be great rejoicing in the ranks of the enemy. There could be no surer way of doing this than for Roosevelt to become somewhat dizzy from the heights of fame at which he has arrived. In such an event, he would be almost sure to say or do something that would compromise him in the eyes of the American people, and in this way greatly cripple his influence.

Let us hope, however, that no such misfortune befall us, for it would be no less than a national calamity for such a thing to occur. Roosevelt has talked wisely and discreetly so far, and in his old time spirit and seeming disregard of consequences. This is just what we as a people like, and the very reason we like Roosevelt. So long as we know his heart is right and that he has the courage of his convictions, we are willing that he shall say whatever he pleases. He has always been accorded that privilege. If this proves still to be his way, what a glad day it will be to his countrymen when he again reaches our shores and takes up the fight after his old style, for it is as the great apostle of the Square Deal that we know him, and we will be satisfied with nothing else.

A Just Estimate of Johnson's Campaign

The penchant the partisan press has for boosting that which it favors, and belittling that which it opposes, makes the public properly suspicious of overwrought accounts of public meetings and popular enthusiasm for partisan candidates. People remember that it was not always that the posters on the bulletin boards were fully justified when at last the circus came to town. However, there is abundant warrant for the oft-repeated statement that the progress of Hiram Johnson and his party through the state has been splendidly successful, as well as for the belief that the influence left behind will prove permanent and healthful. A very careful observer who heard Johnson on Saturday last at Dixon, writes this paper: "Johnson's speech was brief and to the point, and remarkably well delivered. It excited a great deal of enthusiasm. In this community Johnson will surely receive a large vote, both at the primary and at the general election." The reason why is not so far to seek. It is simply not possible to sit and listen to Hiram W. Johnson and not believe that he believes what he is saying to be true. His is the eloquence of sincerity, not struggling for expression through wild gesticulations and a broken, cracked and half-munched vocabulary. His style is that of the trained speaker whose thoughts flow mellifluously from a well modulated voice, each word as perfectly formed as rain drops and making music as sweet. He speaks to the people out of a full heart and they are turning out to hear him as they have heard no other Californian since Starr King. The campaign of 1910 will mark the beginning of a new era in the political life of California, and Hiram W. Johnson, more than any other one man, will be its inspiration. —California Weekly.

The Crying Need for Political Sanitation

(Senator Robert L. Owen of Oklahoma in "The Political Health of the Nation," May National Magazine.)

In a vital spot the nation is politically sick, and every evil consequence of bad government flows from this source.

That fault is a system by which commercial interest may make alliance with men interested in politics as a business, and who are influenced in following politics merely for profit.

Since the war, the convention as a system of party mechanism has grown to be grossly abused and has become an agency through which sinister commercial forces operate in the control, first of party government and second of government itself. Under machine politics of both political parties, where these influences operate, you will find a precinct boss, who manages the precinct primary. He calls the primary meeting on short notice, obscures advertisement and in an inconvenient or unpleasant room. He fills the room with his own strikers; he names the precinct delegate. The members and voters of his party in that precinct do not name the precinct delegate. They are not present for various reasons.

It has been said, I care not who elects if I can name the candidates of both parties. Selection is more important than election.

It is easy to perceive how this evil condition can be remedied. The members of the Republican party in every precinct, in every state where machine politics are entrenched should organize a liberty league or a Republican league, with a president and secretary and with a postal vote, and through the postal vote, without leaving their homes, should nominate the precinct delegate and every other candidate, if they like.

Will you suggest that the political machine would pay no attention to the nomination of the majority of the members of the party in the precinct of the precinct delegate? I answer that a federation of such precinct liberty leagues could sweep the machine out of existence and defeat every candidate named by the machine; that such an organization of precinct leagues throughout the state could be easily accomplished, and in that contingency could by postal vote name its own delegates to a state convention, who would represent the rank and file of the party and could out from position any political party theretofore existing.

The same policy pursued by the members of the Democratic party would break down the evil consequences of machine politics and restore the political health of the nation in both great parties. The nation has been sick with political corruption, with political self-seeking and with a corrupt alliance between machine politicians and commercial interests engaged in the exploitation of the American people by artificial high prices, by national statute, by state and municipal contracts.

The Political Watchtower

D. W. McDannald, the sage of Berkeley, seems to be an ardent admirer of Frank Trickey, and in his own name way gives his favorite candidate for auditor the following send-off:

"I was in Santa Ana the other day, just loitering around on the unused parts of the sidewalks, when a man came up and handed me a pack of cards. I supposed they were the ordinary kind, just like we used to sneak up in the hay loft with, but when I got home and attempted to beguile away a pleasant hour with my favorite 'solitaire,' I found they were all 'jokers,' every mother's son of them. There stood before me, printed in bold black letters, this information: 'Frank S. Trickey, Candidate for County Auditor,' and in that printed legend I saw Frank's smile, a smile that has bade many customers 'call again,' with equal exuberance to the tattered urchin with only a nickel to invest and to the lady with a diamond brooch. To many a 'poor, over-labored' that smile has cheered like an oasis on the desert, and yet it is as free as air, and as inexhaustible as the sands along the river bed. If I owned that smile I'd have it copyrighted and then I'd prosecute all infringements. I look forward to the mid-summer campaign with as much interest as the small boy watches the dates on the show posters. Along about the 16th of August, in imagination, I see Frank and Cal sprinting down the homestretch at a gait that is simply bewildering, with Frank kicking up such a cloud of dust and throwing up so many chunks of earth that Cal is compelled to take shelter until the storm goes by, and Frank crosses the line an easy winner in the miraculous time of 4 months, 16 days and 7½ seconds. And the watchman on the tower proclaims 'All is well.'"

Attractions at the Theaters

The Grand
Miss May Robson as Aunt Mary, in "The Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary," is coming to the Grand tonight.

The role of Anna Mary, as played by Miss Robson, fits her, and is one of the best she has ever had. The play is full of bright comedy lines, novel situations and that wholesome sweetness that appeals to everybody. There is no villainy, no risqué situations, no one wronged, nothing but delightful fun, just the kind that keeps you chuckling throughout the evening. There is just a touch of pathos at times that gives one a chance to get ready for the laughs that follow. It is a delightful piece of work, the part of Aunt Mary as played by Miss Robson. To her character impersonations she brings a comprehension of the inner humor and the practical possibilities of phase or line, a telling reserve in pose and gesture, and an ease and fluency of quiet delivery that are in the better spirit of polished experienced original comedy.

CATARRH GOES

So Does Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Croup and Asthma

—You can easily tell by reading the symptoms below, whether you have catarrh or not:

Offensive breath, frequent sneezing, discharge from the nose, stoppage of the nose, huskiness of the voice, tickling in the throat, droppings in throat, a cough, pain in chest, loss of strength, variable appetite, spasms of coughing, low spirited at times, raising of mucus, difficulty in breathing, loss of vitality.

Rowley Drug Co. has a sensible remedy (money back if it fails) for catarrh, called Hyomei (pronounced High-o-me) which is a vaporized air, so antiseptic, that when it is breathed over the inflamed and germ-infested membrane, it kills all germ life, giving relief in two minutes, and cures catarrh.

The price, including hard rubber inhaler, is only $1.00. The hard rubber pocket inhaler will last a lifetime, so that should you need a second bottle of Hyomei, you can get it for 50 cents.

PIANOS

In selecting a piano great care should be taken to select one that has quality of tone. Quality of material used, and durability of construction. Our pianos are the result of deep study, skilled workmen and first-class material. The tone is brilliant and limpid, with a sympathetic quality that adds much to its beauty. We buy direct from the factories, have no middlemen's profits, enabling us to make you a closer price than any house in Orange county, considering the quality of the pianos. Come in and look them over.

H. W. Cozad, the reliable piano tuner, has had eighteen years' experience in the factories, and can take care of your pianos right. Leave orders with

THE "CHEAPEST-PER-YEAR" ROOFING

If you average the cost price of J-M ASBESTOS ROOFING over the period of years it is in service, you will see that "J-M" is cheaper to use than any other prepared roofing. Being made of Asbestos, an indestructible mineral, it is permanently durable, and as it does not require any coating or painting, its first cost is the only cost. Easily applied by anyone. ASBESTOSIDE is an Asbestos Sheathing and is the most economical, durable and easily applied siding known. Ask for samples and prices.

Pleasant Evening

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dean last night had the officers and teachers of the United Presbyterian Sunday school, together with Rev. and Mrs. W. L. C. Samson, at their home, 504 Cypress avenue, for the purpose of planning for the upbuilding of the Sunday school, of which Mr. Dean is superintendent. Besides the business part of the evening a most enjoyable social time was spent. Very dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. Dean at the conclusion of the social hour.

Reception for Miss Alger

At 7:30 this evening a reception will be given for Miss Edna Alger at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Stevenson, 1016 North Broadway. Miss Alger has just received her appointment to China from the Foreign Presbyterian Mission Board, and leaves here tomorrow morning for a short visit with her parents in Iowa, and to attend the general missionary conference to be held in New York the last of this month, before starting for China. Miss Alger is well known in Santa Ana, having taught in our public schools, and having been an active member of the First Presbyterian church. This evening's reception will be in the nature of a silver shower, as an expression of appreciation from her friends of her faithfulness. The ladies of the Missionary Society having this in charge extend a cordial invitation to all of Miss Alger's friends, hoping they will avail themselves of this opportunity to wish her God-speed in her new field of labor.

Fathers' Meeting

Tonight at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McFadden there will be a Fathers' Meeting, held under the auspices of the W.C.T.U. Subjects of interest will be discussed, the principal speakers being E. E. Keech, S. M. Davis and J. H. Scott. All fathers and mothers are cordially invited to be present.

Monthly "Y" Meeting

The Santa Ana "Y" met at the home of Hugh Keech last evening for the monthly business meeting and social.

The devotional service was conducted by Miss Hulda Jones, the topic being, "The Lilies of the Field."

Following the devotional service, the topic for the evening was discussed, under the direction of Winifred Roberts, who addressed the large gathering of young people on "The Development of the Flower Mission." Stewart Smith read an interesting story entitled, "One Prison Ministry." Malcolm Tedford played a very beautiful cornet solo, and Miss Elva Witt rendered the "Flower Song" on the piano, to the delight of all present.

Games involving the guessing of flowers, with letters interchanged in order to make the spelling difficult, and others appropriate to the nature of the evening were played. Refreshments of delicious punch and cake were served.

An unusually large crowd enjoyed the meeting last evening, and fully as large a gathering is expected at the home of Miss Edna McMurphy, next month, the subject being, "Glimpses of Fifty Countries."

Soap Shower

Miss Grace Parker most delightfully entertained yesterday for Miss Lowell Garnett. The young ladies invited to the function showered Miss Garnett with all kinds and varieties of soap, evidently trying to impress upon the mind of the bride-to-be that one of the essentials of a happy household is the recognition of that time honored creed, "Cleanliness is next to Godliness."

The principal diversion, aside from the soap shower, of course, was a pretty progressive game, the winner of highest score at each progression being awarded some dainty little prize. In this way, almost every one received a favor.

Decorations were of sweet peas and were exquisite. Dainty refreshments were served in a dainty way. Miss Parker is a charming hostess and has a most original way of entertaining. Her half hundred guests were kept on the qui vive by the various sparkling conceits she introduced into the afternoon's entertainment.

Officers' Reception

The "Heartville Shakespeare Club" made a record hit last night in its appearance before a delighted audience that had gathered at the Chapter room of Hermosa Chapter, O.E.S., in response to an invitation from the officers of the chapter. The members of the club were Mesdames O. M. Robbins, I. N. Van Cleave, O. P. Remsburg, W. L. Grubb, Flint, Reeves and Miss Alice Trickey, and their interpretations of the immortal lines of the immortal Will were truly wonderful. Rarely, if ever before, have recitations of the Romeo and Juliet balcony scene, sleep walking scene from Macbeth and other equally famous dramatic excerpts from the Shakespearean dramas, been as hilariously received as they were last night when presented by this club.

Other features of the program for the evening were vocal numbers given by Misses Elsie Harrison and Emmeline Petersen, and a cornet solo by Mr. Insley, all highly enjoyed. Following the program cards and dancing were indulged in, and fruit-ade and wafers were served throughout the evening. The officers of the chapter were complimented on their successful entertainment. The rooms were beautifully decorated in flowers and butterflies.

Entertained Boy Friends

Arthur Morse pleasantly entertained several of his boy friends last night at the family residence, 725 Mortimer street, games and conversation wailing away the hours. Light refreshments were served.

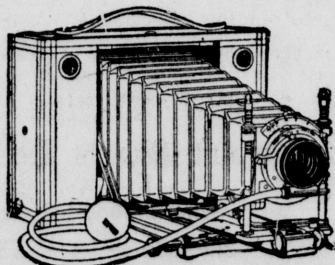

This was a farewell party, as Arthur will accompany his sisters to New Mexico when they leave tomorrow.

Must-in Anniversary

The reception held on Saturday evening by members of old Company L, at Elks Hall, proved a great success, many townspeople gathering to pay their respects to the boys. The twelfth anniversary of the muster-in of the company for service during the Spanish-American war was the occasion for the reunion. The soldiers were addressed by Col. S. H. Finley, captain of the Company, who gave its history; Col. Coulter, talking of "Soldiers Old and New;" Dr. Waffle on "Loyal Home Friends," and Hon. Clyde Bishop on "Camp Life." Music was furnished by Babize's orchestra.

Following the reception, a banquet was enjoyed by the members of old Company L and of Camp Calumet, United Spanish War Veterans.

PARTNER SELLS INTEREST IN CLOTHING STORE

On account of continued ill health Arthur Hoefer has sold his interest in the Lutz & Co. clothing store and will try to regain his health in some outdoor pursuit. His interest has been purchased by his partners, Phillip and Albert C. Lutz, who will continue the business as heretofore and under the same firm name.

Up to a year or two ago this firm was engaged exclusively in the tailoring business, but now they carry a complete line of ready-made clothing, also everything in gents furnishings. They have built up a large trade and it is safe to say their business will continue to grow as they are careful business men who know what good goods are and who believe in treating everyone fairly.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh, whose health recently threatened to break down, has taken steps to "conserve his natural resources" and put into effect a new program for the "day's work," which he expects will relieve him of considerable strain. The head of the Treasury, with all of its ramifications through the customs and internal revenue services, the financial administration of the government receipts and disbursements, the control of the national banks, and the thousand and one other things which are imposed upon the director of this wide-reaching department, must necessarily be a busy man if he only hits the high spots. This is especially true when it is considered how much of his time is consumed during the day by callers of various descriptions. There are always senators and members of the House of Representatives wanting to see him about matters directly affecting the interests of their constituents, whether they relate to appointments in the government service, the troubles of those already in office, or the details of the construction of the latest public building appropriated for by Congress. To these his doors must always be swinging wide open. And when are added to them the multifarious calls of business men wanting to discuss policies of the Department; of friends who come merely to "pay their respects;" of newspaper men looking for the latest developments in this, that or the other subject of public interest; and other chiefs of divisions who want to see him to talk over the decisions in their respective branches of the service, these receptions alone constitute a tax upon any man's vital energies, without counting the revision of the mail which grows out of these visits. Secretary MacVeagh insists not only on knowing what is being done by his subordinates in the Department, but upon revising the letters which the various chiefs prepare after their consultations with him on important questions. He does not skimp through them, either, but reads them carefully, and is mighty particular as to the choice of diction employed.

Then, too, he has found time to give his personal supervision to the "rehabilitation," which is his favorite method of expressing it, of the customs service at New York; to the reorganization of the special agent's service, and to the inquiries into customs conditions at other ports.

Under this mighty press of business it is scarcely to be wondered at that recently his health threatened to fail. But he has accepted the warning and is now arranging to curtail the amount of business that he must do. Another consideration that has led him to do this is the social duties which occupy his evenings. Scarcely any man in Washington entertains more than does Secretary MacVeagh. He is always giving dinners or receptions to his friends, or attending similar functions of an official or social character.

So as the first step in his new policy of "conservation" he decided to move his office from the corner of Fifteenth street and Pennsylvania avenue, where there is a constant clamor of street-car gongs, auto horns, and the noise of wheeled vehicles, to the quieter corner on the Executive avenue, overlooking the White House grounds. There he has had arranged for him a suite of offices, the decorations for which were chosen by Mrs. MacVeagh herself. The general color scheme of the room fixed up for the Secretary's private use is green and peacock blue. The walls are tinted in olive and the furniture upholstered in blue plush. There is a wonderful, big mahogany desk, the top of which is protected by a single sheet of plate glass. There are other smaller desks and tables of mahogany, and at the further end of the room, where the delegations will be seated and where the wear and tear is likely to be greatest, there is a suite of handsome chairs and settee done in mohair. Five rugs of domestic manufacture decorate the floor.

The room for the use of his secretaries is almost as large and artistically furnished as his own. There is a private reception room, and private elevator. The next step in the Secretary's policy was taken only this week. It was the issuance of an order that the Department would be positively closed to all outside visitors at 4:30 o'clock each afternoon. After that hour no one—not even a Senator or member of Congress—will have access to the Secretary or his assistants. Heretofore, although the body of clerks left the building at the hour indicated, many of those attached to the principal bureaus, and especially to the office of the Secretary and assistant secretaries, have been kept at work until late hours simply because their chiefs have been unable to catch up with the necessary work because of the run of callers during the day.

By enforcing this new order the Secretary expects to dispense with this necessity, and to obtain some time when he may consult with his chiefs and dispose of his own voluminous mail undisturbed.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by druggists. Price 75c per bottle.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

The Japanese strawberry growers gained their point by stopping berry picking last Thursday and allowing the market to clean up well. There were very few berries in on Friday and Saturday, but not until yesterday morning did the market actually respond to the enforced smallness of arrivals. Prices of 'strawberries' were up to 3 and 4 cents a basket, and all of the fruit was clean and fresh. The demand was so good that the early market supply was well used up before noon and late receipts began to arrive. Raspberry receipts were larger than usual, some three hundred crates, and prices were down to 7 and 8 cents a basket. The first loganberries of the year were reported in. This cross between the raspberry and blackberry brought from 18 to 20 cents a basket. Dewberries continued in good supply. The average price remained up to 5 cents a basket.

There was a fair call for case-count eggs. The market was off 1/2 cent, owing to lower quotations in the central part of the state, and chiefly to receipts of 776 cases, about twice the ordinary receipts. Eastern storage packed sold at 23 cents for firsts. Butter receipts were very heavy—60,947 pounds. The call was normal. There were no changes of any kind and the Eastern reports were not received early enough to cause any difference.

Eastern cheese has firmed up very much, and an increase of 1/2 cent was declared on daisy and longhorn varieties. The demand of the morning was chiefly for Swiss imported, which sold at 28 cents a pound. Other offerings were good. Receipts of all varieties were only 4302 pounds. Arrivals of northern spuds are growing smaller finally, and the market is assuming a better tone. There is a great deal of stock still on hand to be worked off, and this can be done if arrivals continue small. They only totaled 607 sacks yesterday. Shipments of local potatoes to other places were of good proportion.

There was a much better feeling

In Bermudas and the market on fancy crated stock was up to $1.50 to $1.65. There were no changes on sacks. Receipts were 246 sacks. There was no activity in the bean market.

About 10 crates of cantaloupes were received on the market from Mexico, and the price on them was down to $8 per crate. Receipts of cherries totaled 275 boxes, the heaviest of the season so far. Prices on black held firm at 15 cents, while on fancy white the quotations were up to 8 cents. Apricots were offered at $2 per crate, a decline of about $2 over prices of last week.

Eggplant was down to 15 cents a pound. The price on asparagus ranged from 3 to 4 cents a pound. About 3 sacks of sweet corn arrived and the market on this was 75 cents. Yellowtail are beginning to run, at least catches of fishermen contained a few of these fish. Barracuda were very plentiful. Other varieties on hand were cod, smelt, halibut and a few sardines.

HINZE OUT OF PROJECT

Withdraws From Promotion and Building Sugar Factory at Fallon

The following appeared in the Los Angeles Times this morning:

RENO, (Nev.) May 9.—Word has been received here from Fallon that the construction work on the factory buildings of the Nevada Sugar Company at that place has been indefinitely suspended owing to a disagreement between Manager Fred Hinze of Santa Ana, Cal., and the directors of the company, who are residents of Nevada.

The plant was to cost $600,000, and the company was capitalized for $1-000,000, Hinze Brothers being the largest investors.

The land owners under the Truckee-Carson irrigation project were depending on it to supply the market for a large acreage of sugar beets that was to be planted here, and coin was invested by people from all parts of Nevada.

Hinze has stated his complete withdrawal from the enterprise, and public meetings are being held at Fallon to devise what further steps shall be taken. The company is completely demoralized at present. Hinze was the promoter of the enterprise and no one else in the company is able to take his place, besides which the withdrawal of his financial support is a serious blow.

GRIM STARVATION CONFRONTED THEM

Thirty-five People Saved by Timely Arrival of Ship in Alaskan Port

JUNEAU, May 10.—Thirty-five persons were saved from starvation by the timely arrival of the schooner Aniti Phillips at Yakataga according to reports today.

The Aniti was the first ship to touch this port in eight months. She carried provisions for the stores there.
There was hardly enough food left in the village to last a week.

The starving persons had enough gold dust to buy provisions for a hun-

NEWPORT TO HAVE SALOON

Wholesale and Retail Liquor License Granted to Higley & Yraibaine

Newport Beach is to have a wholesale and retail liquor house.

Last evening the city trustees granted a license to Higley & Yraibaine of Long Beach (or Belmont Heights) owners of the California Winery. A condition of granting the license is that the licensee shall invest at least $5000 in building and fixtures on the lot on the corner of Twenty-second street and the ocean front. This lot has been purchased by Higley & Yrai-baine from Geo. A. Edgar of Santa Ana. The Edgar cottage is to be removed and a handsome building erected. The lot is 25x75 feet in dimensions.

The license is for one year and the fee is $1800.

program has been prepared and everybody is invited to attend. No admission charge.

—Ladies of the Altar Society of St.
Joseph's church will give a box social at Fraternal Brotherhood Hall, Wednesday evening, May 11. A fine program has been prepared and everybody is invited to attend. No admission charge.

W. S. DECKER GETS A FAT STATE JOB

Instructor in Carpentry at the Whittier State School at Big Advance in Salary

After thirteen years' steady work as a carpenter in this city, W. S.
Decker goes to the Whittier Reform School, where he will be instructor in carpentry. Although he has always had a good salary here, as foreman for G. E. Preble, his new position will pay him double as much as the one he is earning.

Mr. Decker expressed regret at leaving Santa Ana, and especially at severing long-standing and most delightful church and social relations, and certainly the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Decker will regret to see them go away.

While Mr. Decker is now in charge at Whittier, his family will remain in Santa Ana a few days yet.

Their new home will be on the State School grounds.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—By a vote of four to two the Ballinger investigation committee throttled an attempt by Attorney Brandeis to establish a connection between Senator Piles of Washington and the appointment of Secretary Ballinger as Land Commissioner and the political activities of the Guggenheim-Cunningham affiliation in Washington. The attempt provoked evident hard feeling on the part of Secretary Ballinger.

Suddenly Brandeis had switched the subject to the clear-listing of the Cunningham Alaskan claims. Ballinger angrily exclaimed:

"You know all the attempts to be-smirch my character by intimating some devilish inspiration are utterly unfounded. I clear-listed the claims upon evidence as I would now on the same evidence."

THIGH CARRIES RIFLE BULLET

One Mexican Fires at Two and Strikes One—No Cause is Given for Shooting

Vincent Gonzalez fired a 22-rifle bullet into Jesus Mancas's left thigh, and immediately afterward got out of the county. The shooting occurred this morning at 7 o'clock at Talbert at a house in which Gonzalez is reputed to have been running a blind pig. The facts obtainable are meager.

Mancas says that he had had no quarrel with Gonzalez. He says that Gonzalez went out of the house and fired at some man outside. Returning, he aimed at Mancas, who stood in one corner, and fired.

Gonzalez took an early car to Los Angeles. Deputy Sheriff Wilson went out to investigate from the sheriff's office, which was not informed of the affair until nearly noon.

The bullet entered the fleshy part of the man's left thigh. The physicians called decided to leave the bullet where it was.

Joseph's church will give a box social at Fraternal Brotherhood Hall,

GET UP AND SEE THE GREAT COMET

Schedule of the Celestial Visitor's Movements—Will Eclipse Moon May 23

Have you seen the comet?
If not, get busy—it will soon disappear from the morning sky, and after that it cannot be seen again to such advantage for seventy-five years—it will not be so brilliant in the evening sky.

Get up in the morning at from 3:15 to 3:45, and if there are no clouds or fog you will see it—a beautiful and awe-inspiring sight—just above the horizon, a trifle north of due east. It can be seen plainly from any second story window in Santa Ana except where there are tall trees or houses in the immediate foreground. It can be seen from the ground looking down any open street like Third, Fourth or Fifth.

The great comet is daily becoming more plainly visible at Lick observatory, and in spite of the presence of strong moonlight in the morning hours, photographs have been obtained showing a tail of twelve degrees, or more than 15,000,000 miles in length. Observers who are not hampered by the glare of electric lights should get a good view of the comet until May 16 or 17, when it will be obscured for a few days as it passes the sun, after which it will be visible in the evening.

At present, says W. W. Campbell, director of the Lick observatory, the comet appears about ten degrees above the horizon, in the eastern sky, near Venus. It will be seen a little to the north of Venus, and a little further above the horizon, with the tail pointing upward and to the right, directly away from the sun.

After being obscured by the sun,
the appearance of the comet will be dimmed for several evenings by the brilliance of the moon, until the evening of May 23, when the comet will eclipse the moon for 51 minutes, beginning at 9:09 o'clock and continuing until 10 o'clock.

On May 25 the comet will set four hours after sunset, before the rising of the moon, and for the next two weeks a good view will be obtained, although it will rapidly grow fainter and will appear further to the south each evening.

Spectrum photographs obtained by Astronomer Wright have shown bright lines, due to the presence of sodium, carbon and cyanogen, and have also shown that the greater part of the light of the nucleus forms a continuous spectrum, probably due to reflected light from the sun.

HYDE DENIES ALL CHARGES

Miss Cultures and Poisons from Office—Dr. to be Last
Witness in Case

KANSAS CITY, May 10.—Under a gruelling cross-examination Dr. Hyde, charged with the murder of Col.
Swope, showed the first signs of nervous collapse this afternoon. Continued battering by the prosecution attorneys changed the abruptness characterizing his answers to evidences of extreme nervousness. Toward the end he confined his answers to "Yes" or "No."

Denied Every Charge
KANSAS CITY, May 10.—It is believed that Dr. Hyde will be the last witness in his trial for the alleged murder of Col. Swope, and that the case will go to the jury late this week. The direct examination of Dr. Hyde was continued today, and it is expected that cross examination will begin this afternoon.

Dr. Hyde testified that when he returned to his office after a trip from the city, he found several culture tubes missing. He specifically denied all charges against him.
